Overview

It is widely regarded that social science research enhances our understanding of the society and its functioning, as it opens up debate and gives us a say in shaping our collective future. This in turn provides policy inputs for socio-economic development and generates ideas and information that could be used in policy framing, teaching and research. Thus, social science research renders vital services to the society and the country.

India has a long and rich tradition of commissioning research in social science teaching. Takshashila, Nalanda, Vikramashila, Vallabhi, Pushpagiri and Somapura universities flourished as global centres of learning in different parts of India. The subjects taught in these universities included Vedas, Vedanta, Ayurveda, Medicine and Surgery, Jurisprudence, Mathematics, Astronomy, Physics, Metallurgy, Civil Engineering, Architecture, Philosophy, Grammar, Agriculture, Economics, Commerce, Politics, Statecraft, Military Education, Literature and Craft etc. These universities set very high standards of teaching, learning and research for scholars from across the world. This system of Indian education produced scholars of great stature such as Aryabhatta, Bhaskaracharya, Amarsimha, Chandrabardai, Banbhatta, Dandin, Jivaka Komarabhacca, Mahaviracharya, Charaka, Susruta, Baudhayan, Chanakya, Brahmagupta, Panini, Patanjali, Nagarjuna, Pingala, Gargi, Kanad, Varahamihira, Thiruvalluvar and so on.

Social science teaching and research in the country, however, made a formal beginning with the introduction of modern university system in the second half of the 19th century as Senate of Serampore University (1829), the University of Mumbai (1857), University of Madras (1857), University of Calcutta (1857) and Allahabad University (1875) came into existence. This was the time when Indian Oriental Renaissance was encountered with West's christian missionaries and European Imperialism, and was eventually downgraded with Euro-Centricity. The real breakthrough in paradigm for social science research came only after Independence with the rapid expansion of higher education system as a part of the planned socio-economic development. As the country's development process threw up numerous and diverse challenges that required extensive research and analysis, Government of India established a Committee for Social Science Research under the Chairmanship of Professor V.K.R.V. Rao in 1965 to review the social science research scenario in the country and make recommendations to accelerate its progress. This led to the establishment of the Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) in 1969 to encourage, promote and fund social science research in the country. In due course of our sociological learning curve we identified issues which are too considerate for future growth and development of social science research in India. The immediate need is to work upon the distorted perspective of social science due to over-reliance on Western counterpart. In this context, teaching in the mother language by using local materials, research by insiders, considering research priorities and reoreientation of theoretical and methodological framework must be emphasized.

The need of the hour is to shift from the primacy of documenting the 'exceptionalism' of India to engaging in pluralised sociologies of India so as to be able to represent a larger variety of issues, generate new theories and perspective to enable and represent the multiple voices of varied people of India while engaging in international comparison to generate more broadly applicable conceptual insight. Presently, efforts have been put in by social scientists to come out of West's methodology. Indic phenomena is seen with the lense of reality of Indian society and culture.

The ICSSR is an autonomous body under the Ministry of Education, Government of India and a premier organisation with 24 Research Institutes (grant-in-aid), five Recognised Research Institutes and six Regional Centres located in different parts of the country.

The ICSSR's aims and objectives as spelt out in its Memorandum of Association (MoA) are the following:

- To review and survey the progress of Social Science Research and advise the Government on policy issues;
- To fund and promote Social Science Research in Universities/Colleges/ Research Institutes;
- To award Doctoral, Post–doctoral, Senior and National Fellowships to researchers and faculties;
- To award Minor, Major and Collaborative Research Projects to researchers and faculties;
- To fund National and International Seminars and Conferences to disseminate social science research findings;
- To support Training and Capacity Building Programmes for young researchers and faculties;
- To provide International Travel and Data Collection Grant to scholars and faculties;
- To encourage International Collaboration in social science research with well recognized foreign research funding agencies;
- To fund publication of journals and books in social science research and also strengthen professional social science associations/organizations;
- To provide library, documentation, data and online services for social science research; and
- To indicate periodic themes in neglected and new critical areas of research.

During the last about 53 years of its establishment, the ICSSR has been actively promoting and funding social science research in the country. It provides regular maintenance and development grant to its Research Institutes (on matching grant basis) to study National and Regional research issues from interdisciplinary perspectives. It also fully supports its six Regional Centres which represent the Council within their respective regions with a view to spread the programmes and schemes of the ICSSR. Under the International Collaboration Programme, ICSSR has signed bilateral collaborative agreements with 14 countries including the United Kingdom, Japan, South Africa, Germany, South Korea, Switzerland, Sri Lanka, Vietnam, Philippines, Netherlands, Sweden, Taiwan, Bosnia & Herzegovina, and Cultural Exchange Programmes with three countries, namely, France, China and Thailand to engage in activities such as exchange of scholars, joint seminars, research projects, publications, exchange of books and periodicals. The ICSSR also participates in the activities of the international social science organizations like International Science Council (ISC), Science Council of Asia (SCA) and UNESCO etc. The Council serves as the nodal agency for participating in the activities of the UNESCO's MOST (Management of Social Transformation) programme and its implementation.

Since its inception, the ICSSR has granted 7488 Major, Minor and Collaborative Research Projects (Including IMPRESS), awarded 9200 Doctoral Fellowships (7033 Full- term and 2167 Short-term), 2817 Post-doctoral Fellowships, 825 Senior Fellowships and 174 National Fellowships. It has sponsored 4358 National and 1162 International seminars/ conferences, funded 2150 scholars for attending seminars abroad and 461 scholars for data collection abroad. The ICSSR has sponsored 1099 Training & Capacity Building Programmes for young faculties and researchers, provided financial assistance to 1883 scholars for publication of their Doctoral Theses/Projects/Fellowship Reports/ Conference Proceedings, financially supported 1075 social science journals and 396 professional associations involved in social science research activities. It has also conducted Six Rounds of Surveys of current status of research in some social science disciplines, namely, Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Social Anthropology, Geography, and Psychology in the country. These surveys have also been published by ICSSR in collaboration with reputed publishers like Sage, Pearson and Oxford University Press (OUP) etc. The ICSSR used to publish prestigious social science research journal – 'The Indian Social Science Review' which was discontinued in 2011. Now, we have restarted the journal and research papers and articles have been reviewed by experts of eminence. The shortlisted articles would be send for publication. Apart from this, the ICSSR provides research services like library, documentation, data and e-resources to several thousand social science scholars and faculties across the country through its National Social Science Documentation Centre (NASSDOC).

The ICSSR has been offering its research-based advice, whenever needed, to the Government of India on policy relevant issues and has contributed in the Newton-Vivekanand Programme with the U.K. It has also carried out studies for various Ministries of Government of India including Ministry of Social Justice & Empowerment, Ministry of Minority Affairs, Ministry of Home Affairs, and the Ministry of Science and Technology. In addition, there is considerable presence of ICSSR studies and references in various policy documents and reports of the Ministries and the Planning Commission (erstwhile). Moreover, the Member Secretary and Council members have regularly participated and contributed to the deliberations of other government organisations involved in policy making or implementation such as the University Grants Commission, Indian Statistical Institute, Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), Indian Council of World Affairs, Indian Institute of Advanced Study, Niti Aayog, ICPR, ICHR etc. Many officers of the ICSSR have also given their presentations on various schemes of the Council.

As the ICSSR has completed 53 years of its existence, it faces significant challenges alongside opportunities while giving direction to social science research in India and actively participating in social science research at global level. According to a University Grants Commission Report, there are 1047 Universities in the country (54 Central Universities, 455 State Universities, 412 Private Universities and 126 Deemed to be Universities). Similarly, as per the data drawn from International Standard Series Number (ISSN) and Ulrich International Periodical Directory data books, there were 2131 social science journals published in India during the period 2000-2015.

The ICSSR Review Report (2007) mentions that while the scale and range of social science research in the country has expanded, the quality of research output of a majority of institutions as well as their contribution to a better understanding of socio-economic processes and shaping public policy have fallen short of expectations. The quality also needs to be improved considering that the precious resources are being spent on research. The research quality constitutes a major challenge for all spheres of research in the country, including social science.

Moreover, with the introduction of 'National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF)' by Ministry of Education, Government of India, in 2015, there is a greater focus on research as the rankings significantly depend on the research orientation and related output of the institutes or universities. The entire issue has raised the concerns of the policy makers to adopt newer strategies and best global practices for enhancing the research quality and culture to improve the global rankings of the Indian institutes and universities. This is also reflected with increase in 'Institute of National Importance', which is conferred on a premier public higher education institution in India by an Act of Parliament of India. Thus, all institutions entrusted with the task of promoting and supporting researches like the ICSSR face this key challenge of promoting advanced, novel and cutting-edge researches to help institutes and universities in improving their national and global rankings, and also build a robust research culture in the country. There are enormous existing opportunities that place the ICSSR in an advantageous position to play a leading role in social science research and policy, at country as well as international levels.

The 21st century is widely said to belong to Asia, where India, Japan and China are perceived as major actors. India and China have already been emerging at a rapid growth rate in the last three decades. The end of the Cold War and the growing impact of globalisation also require India to redefine its position and role at the regional and global levels. Ever since economic liberalisation of the 1990s, India's global presence has been steadily rising. India is now one of the fastest growing economies for more than three decades, and it is world's fifth largest economy after the United States, China, Japan and Germany (in nominal GDP terms) and the third -largest by Purchasing Power Parity (PPP) (as per IMF & World Bank). In next few years, it is projected to be among the largest three economies of the world. There are many issues that constitute common research concerns of the world, and at the same time there are a number of country and policy specific research concerns that nations are interested in getting examined with a view to understanding the existing problems and finding their possible solutions. Rising population, national security, development pattern, water resources, climate change, sustainability, migration, urban infrastructure, inclusiveness etc. could be some of India's specific concerns. Many times, nations converge in terms of their common problems and so, the research concerns.

India's aspiration to become one of the global leaders in knowledge creation rests on its research capabilities and infrastructure. The researches ultimately have to and must serve the society and should contribute towards policy formulation and its objective assessment. At the same time, the modern researches are crossing the tight compartments of disciplines and moving towards inter and multi-disciplinarity, where many disciplines combine their intellectual and infrastructural resources to achieve the common objective of larger welfare. In this respect, the ICSSR's role acquires a greater significance as we have been promoting such inter or multidisciplinary researches. Even developments in science and technology require social science perspective for greater acceptability of new developments and preparing society to accept and adapt to those developments. Fortunately, all these aspects of robust research and innovation base have been well captured by the 'National Education Policy, 2020' which underlines "Knowledge creation and research are well known to be centrally critical to growing and sustaining a large and vibrant economy, uplifting society, and continuously inspiring a nation to achieve even greater heights" ……. "A robust ecosystem of research is perhaps more important than ever with the rapid changes occurring in the world today….."

India is viewed as a major stakeholder in global political, economic and technological environment, and, therefore, its research output is expected to have a larger share in global quality researches. New researches are leading to many paradigm shifts and are challenging colonial concepts and theories. There is also a greater emphasis in the country on analyzing India's challenges and problems based on our own socio-political and economic conditions instead of seeing them through unquestioned western prism and conditions. Such researches are better placed to solve various local or community and country specific problems and suggest innovative solutions and alternatives.

In terms of publication in Social Science Research, India comes in top five Countries. ICSSR comes in India's top institutions which specialises in Social Science Research. Major thurst areas of research includes Climate Change, Health Care Services, Environmental Pollution, Agricultural Land and Profit, Biodiversity and Ecosystem, Globalization and Energy Consumption, Globalization and Climate Change. In 2021, ICSSR's share of publication in Social Science Research in the world has come to 4.41%. And this has made ICSSR climb to 5th rank globally in the domain of Social Science Research publication.

The ICSSR aspires to give a Big Push to social science research in India with the support of the government and other research organisations. India's high growth rate of social science publications at international level (Scopus Statistics) is a strong indicator of India's role now and also in years to come. It is also reflected in (The Time Higher Education) THE Ranking 2022, where universities from India are placed in the top 300 universities in the World. Largely conscious of its new role, the ICSSR has undertaken some vital steps in this regard. Now, it is focusing on both, quantitative expansion of its programmes and schemes and delivery of quality research output. During the year 2021-22, the ICSSR has provided financial assistance to several hundred scholars, faculties and research organisations to encourage and promote quality social science research in the country as given in Table No.1.1.

ICSSR Organisational Structure: The ICSSR's highest decision-making body, known as the Council has 26 members, which includes the ICSSR Chairman and the Member-Secretary, 18 Social Scientists, one Co-opted member and 6 Ex-officio members representing the Government of India. The list containing members of the Governing Council is given at Appendix-1.

The Member Secretary is the Chief Executive Officer and heads the ICSSR Secretariat consisting of Directors, Deputy Directors, Assistant Directors and other officials. The ICSSR's officials, apart from their normal official duties, keep contributing through research papers, articles, articles in edited books, journals etc. and have also delivered lectures during the reporting year.

The Council has three standing committees namely Research Committee (RC), Research Institutes Committee (RIC) and Planning and Administration Committee (PAC). During the financial year 2021-22, the ICSSR has conducted its meetings following Covid-19 guidelines of the Council, Research Committee, Research Institutes Committee and Planning & Administration Committee for the smooth functioning of different divisions.

This is the '53rd Annual Report' of the Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) delineating the Council's activities from 1st April, 2021 to 31st March, 2022.

Research Promotion

Promotion of research in social sciences constitutes the most important activity of the Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR). The ICSSR has been striving to achieve this through its various programmes and schemes such as funding Minor, Major & Collaborative Research Projects of faculties; providing Doctoral, Post–doctoral, Senior, and National Fellowships to scholars and faculties; awarding seminar and conference grants to disseminate social science research findings; sponsoring training and capacity building programmes for young researchers and faculties; providing international travel and data collection grants to scholars and faculties; encouraging international collaborations in research with country level funding agencies abroad; funding publication of journals and books and strengthening professional social science associations/organizations through infrastructural grants; providing library, documentation, data and online literature services to Social Science researchers etc.

The ICSSR has identified the following broad disciplines of study, within the domain of social sciences:

a) Economics
b) Sociology and Social Anthropology
c) Political Science/Public Administration
d) International Studies
e) Social Geography and Population Studies
f) Commerce and Management
g) Social Psychology
h) Education
i) Social Linguistics/Socio-Cultural Studies
j) Law / International Law
k) National Security & Strategic Studies
l) Other allied Social Science disciplines such as Library Science, Social Work, Media Studies, Modern Social History, Health Studies, Gender Studies, Environmental Studies, Diaspora Studies, Area Studies, Sanskrit-Society & Cultural Studies etc. to promote inter-disciplinary and multi-disciplinary research.

Research Projects

Research Projects, both individual and institutional, are important ways to promote social science research in the country. The research projects may belong to any of the social science disciplines or may be multi-disciplinary in nature. The specific objectives of the programme are: (a) to support high quality independent programme of research; (b) to provide opportunities for training of future researchers; (c) to contribute to the development of new theoretical or methodlogical approaches to research; (d) to maintain and sustain various disciplinary research activities; (e) to foster and promote collaborative, interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary research activities among researchers in social science; and (f) to facilitate communication of research outputs both within and outside the academic community and also to provide key inputs to policy makers.

The ICSSR awards two types of Research Projects to Indian scholars: (a) Major and Minor Research Projects earlier known as Research Projects (Responsive) (b) Research

Programmes previously known as Research Projects (Sponsored).

Major and Minor Research Projects

Major and Minor Projects are basically demand -driven. Under this scheme, the ICSSR provides grant to scholars to conduct research on the topics of their choice. The year-wise position of research projects sanctioned since inception and reports received till 31st March 2022 is furnished in Table 2.1.

Research Programmes

Research Programmes are a series of research studies undertaken simultaneously or sequentially on themes of significance and priority in policy and Social Science Research. These studies, identified by the ICSSR from time to time, are expected to be inter-disciplinary or multi-disciplinary or inter-institutional in nature for critical understanding of new social science research issues and develop deeper understanding in terms of theory, methodology, new findings and policy outcomes. However, high impact studies which are extensive in structure but fall within the ambit of a single discipline are also considered.

The scheme of Research Projects (Sponsored) or Research Programme was launched in 2011-12 with All India Report on Educational Status of Scheduled Castes & Scheduled Tribes and De-notified Tribes (DNT) for various states. Year-wise position of research programmes sanctioned since 2011-12, projects cancelled/ withdrawn/closed and reports received till 31st March 2022 is given in Table 2.2.

Research Fellowships

The Research Fellowships have been envisaged by ICSSR to provide research opportunities to young, senior and established social scientists, which are accomplished by engaging them in full-time research on the important themes of their choice, through four categories of fellowships, namely, National Fellowship, Senior Fellowship, Post-Doctoral Fellowship and Doctoral Fellowship. These fellowships are offered to scholars who are at various levels of

National Fellowships

National Fellowships are aimed at providing opportunities to eminent Indian Social Scientists to engage themselves in full-time research that have the potential to contribute to advancement of knowledge in social sciences on important themes of their choice or to write books based on their research. The ICSSR has so far awarded 174 National Fellowships. During the year under report, two National Fellowships were in progress, which were awarded last year and five final reports were received pertaining to previous years. The relevant details are given in Table 2.3.

Senior Fellowships

Senior Fellowships are awarded to outstanding Indian Social Scientists for conducting full time research on themes and issues of national and social concerns proposed by the applicants. These studies are expected to contribute to theoretical and conceptual advancement in different disciplines, help to generate field work based empirical data and contribute in policy making. The ICSSR has so far awarded 825 Senior Fellowships. During the year 30 Senior Fellowships were awarded and 24 final reports were received pertaining to previous years. The relevant details are given in Table 2.4.

Post-doctoral Fellowships proposed by the applicants. These studies are expected to contribute to theoretical and conceptual advancement in different disciplines, help to generate field work based empirical data and contribute in policy making. The ICSSR has so far awarded 2817 Post-doctoral Fellowships. During the year under report, 243 Post-doctoral Fellowships were awarded and 176 Final Reports were received pertaining to previous years. The relevant details are given in Table 2.5.

In order to encourage active participation by scholars, the ICSSR fellows are required to produce at least two research papers/articles in reputed journals during the course of their fellowship, related to the theme of their research. In the year of 2021-22, 437 research papers have been published by fellows in various research journals. Out of these, 52 research papers were published in Scopus Indexed journals, 72 in UGC listed research Journals, 184 in International and 95 in National Journals and 34 as Book Chapters. Doctoral Fellowships

ICSSR Doctoral Fellowships are awarded to selected registered Ph.D. scholars to pursue and complete their doctoral theses in social science disciplines. The main aim is to provide financial support to scholars to enable them to focus full time on their research work and bring out quality research output in the form of their Ph.D. theses and publications.

ICSSR is providing Doctoral Fellowships under its 'Centrally-Administered Doctoral Fellowship Scheme' and 'Institutional Doctoral Fellowship Scheme' in accordance with the prescribed guidelines. In case of 'Centrally-Administered Scheme', the fellowships are awarded and monitored directly by ICSSR and the concerned doctoral fellows are affiliated to a university or college. Under the 'Institutional Fellowship Scheme', the doctoral fellows are affiliated to and monitored by an ICSSR sponsored / recognized research institute. The Call for the 'Centrally-Administered Doctoral Fellowships' is given by ICSSR and the fellowships are awarded after screening and evaluation by Expert Committees. The call for 'Institutional Doctoral Fellowships' is given by the respective research institutes and after preliminary scrutiny, the short-listed applications are sent to ICSSR for evaluation by its experts and final awards. 'Institutional

Doctoral Fellowships' are essentially for a tenure of two years or till the theses submission at the university, whichever is earlier.

Within ICSSR's Centrally-Administered Doctoral Fellowship programme, there are following three types of schemes:

1. The 'Full-Term Doctoral Fellowship' is awarded for a period of two years or till the theses submission at the university, whichever is earlier.
2. The 'Short-Term Doctoral Fellowship' is awarded for six months period to support scholars who are at final stages of their doctoral work.
3. 'Contingency Grant' is a consolidated grant for meeting the expenses on theses work and are provided to scholars who have not received any contingency grant.

Doctoral Fellowships Awards, 2021-22

ICSSR had invited online applications for its three schemes of Centrally-Administered Doctoral Fellowships for the year 2021-22 by placing a Call of Applications on its website on 15 July 2021. Simultaneously, the institutes were asked to initiate the process of inviting applications. In response to this, 2,399 applications were received, 2,314 were logged-in online for the Centrally-Administered Fellowships schemes and 85 applications were received from 16 institutes. Eventually, 2,287 applicants qualified for evaluation of research proposals by the Expert Committee(s) (2,128 for Centrally-Administered Full-Term fellowship, 65 for Short-Term fellowship, 13 for Contingency Grant and 81 for Institutional fellowship). Expert Committee(s) of eighty members was constituted to undertake assessment of the 2,287 research proposals. Subsequently, ICSSR provisionally awarded

Future Perspective

ICSSR shall continue its endeavor to support and encourage meritorious Ph.D. scholars to pursue their doctoral research in varied disciplines of social sciences and enable them to bring out quality research outputs in the form of their theses and publications.

In its pursuit of supporting quality research of contemporary significance, ICSSR shall especially focus on the current relevance of the proposed research in its selection of fellowships. This is achieved by taking into consideration the specific contributions the study proposes, in terms of its implications on policy, result-oriented recommendations in planning and in generating knowledge in the existing body of research in the area.

The monitoring of fellowships awarded shall be more scholar-oriented and aimed to facile-tate and persuade the young scholars for building better research capacities, participation in research activities, publications and timely submissions of doctoral theses.

India is one of the major activities of ICSSR to promote deliberations on issues of high importance in social science research. They provide opportunities to researchers and academicians to exchange views and research findings, discuss important research questions on policy relevant issues, and generate academic research reports on important social problems. Although, the Council itself organises a few seminars, most of its support is in the form of partial financial assistance to academic institutions for organising national and international seminars or conferences.

During the financial year 2021-22, ICSSR received over 242 proposals for organizing International/National Seminars/Conferences from all across India, out of which 131 proposals were selected for funding by the Expert Committee. This included 30 International and 101 National Seminar proposals involving a total expenditure of Rs. 204.70 lakh. The list of seminars approved may be seen at Appendix 5. Further year-wise details about the seminars funded by the ICSSR since its inception may be seen in Table No. 2.8.

Organizing Seminars/Workshops under the theme of 'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav'

'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav' is an initiative to celebrate and commemorate 75 years of progressive independent India and the glorious history of its people, culture and achievements. This 'Mahotsav' is dedicated to the people of India who have been instrumental in bringing India thus far in its evolutionary journey. They also have the power and potential to activate India 2.0, fuelled by the spirit of Atmanirbhar Bharat.

'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav' is an embodiment of all that is progressive about India's socio-cultural, political and economic identity. One of the primary focus of the celebration is to document our unsung heroes, lesser known personalities and places that have made invaluable contributions in the freedom struggle of India. It commenced on 12th March 2021 with a 75 Weeks countdown to our 75th Anniversary of independence and will be concluded after a year, on 15th August 2023.

ICSSR Organized Seminar on "Startups for New and Atmanirbhar Bharat"

The ICSSR has organized a 'Round Table Discussion' of all major Stakeholders on "Startups for New and Atmanirbhar Bharat" on 9th September 2021. The Round Table discussed the issues related to Startups and the way forward for harnessing their potential for technological shift, growth, competitiveness and generation of employment opportunities in the economy. The Round Table discussed the issues with a group comprising of major stakeholders including researchers, policymakers, representatives of Start-ups and industry associations. Around 30-35 participants actively participated in the Round Table discussion. Dr. Krishnamurthy Subramanian, Chief Economic Advisor, Ministry of Finance, Government of India delivered the Keynote Address in the Round Table. Shri N. K. Singh, Former Chairman, 15th Finance Commission, Govt. of India delivered Special Remarks.

International Travel Grant for Paper Presentation/ Data Collection Abroad

The aim of this programme is to assist social science scholars in making substantial contributions to important International Seminars/ Conferences. The programme thus promotes academic links amongst the social scientists in India and abroad, provides opportunity to develop new insights and enlarges their research perspectives and contributes to the advancement and dissemination of knowledge in social science subjects.

In pursuance of its policy to promote closer contacts between India and overseas social scientists, the ICSSR has developed two programmes. Under the first, financial assistance is provided to Indian scholars, who have been invited to contribute and present papers at International Conferences abroad. In its second programme, ICSSR provides financial assistance to scholars who intends to visit abroad for the purposes of data collection or consulting archival material in connection with their research work.

The International Collaboration Programme has spent a total of Rs.103.55 lakh for all its activities during the year 2021-22.

Further, year-wise details about the Travel Grant funded by the ICSSR since its inception may be seen in Table No. 2.9.

Training and Capacity Building Programme

The basic requirement for a high-quality research in Social Science is the training in the science and art of doing research. While the philosophical basis of social science research is common to all disciplines of social sciences, different subjects have evolved their own theoretical frameworks and discipline specific techniques of research. However, scholars engaging themselves in interdisciplinary or multi-disciplinary research need to familiarize themselves with the research methodologies applied in disciplines other than their own in which they are trained. Moreover, from the stage of identification of research problem to methodology and finally, reporting and analysis of findings and also publication of these findings, there are several aspects in which a good researcher has to refine his/her skills. Therefore, the ICSSR supports and sponsors Research Methodology and Capacity Building Programmes in Universities and Research Institutes.

The ICSSR provides grants to the social science faculties for organizing 'Research Methodology and Capacity Building Programmes' for young researchers and faculties in various social science disciplines, which may include training in multi-disciplinary areas and research tools. The programme is divided into the following two categories:

(A) Research Methodology Course (RMC)

The aim of the course is to enhance the methodological and writing skills of the PDF/ Ph.D./M.Phil scholars and develop their potentials as future faculties or social science researchers.

(B) Capacity Building Programme (CBP)

The objective of this programme is to expose the young faculties, mainly Assistant Professors, in social science disciplines to the latest advances in their subjects and also to improve their capacity in understanding of methodology and writing skills.

Since 1971, when the programme was first conceptualised and till 2021-22, 1099 Research Methodology, and Capacity Building Programmes have been funded by the ICSSR. During the year under report, a total of 104 proposals for both Research Methodology Course and Capacity Building Programme (RMC- 62 and CBP- 42) were received and placed before the Expert Committees for evaluation. The Committees had approved 55 proposals (31 under Research Methodology Course and 24 under Capacity Building) with a total expenditure of Rs. 106.09 lakh. The lists of Research Methodology Course and Capacity Building Courses approved in the year may be seen at Appendix - 6.

Future Perspectives

Short-term Training Course to impart highly focused training to young scholars in research writing, data processing and computer applications for lesser number of days involving reduced financial support is being introduced apart from the usual ten-day RMC and two weeks CBP.

Research Survey and Publications

Research Survey and Publication Programme is another major activity of the ICSSR through which it disseminates important research outputs produced both within and outside the Council. Under its publication programme, the Council provides grants to (a) Indian nationals for publication of their Doctoral Theses, Project/Fellowship Reports, Monographs and Seminar/Workshop Papers in the areas of social sciences and (b) Professional associations/organisations of social scientists including universities, colleges and research institutes for publication or continuing with their research journal(s). It also provides ad-hoc grants to professional associations/ organisations of social scientists for maintenance and developmental activities. So far, the ICSSR has published their 1883 books, supported 1075 associations/organisations for publication of their research journals and provided adhoc grant to 396 associations/ organisations for maintenance & development activities. During the year 2021-22, 15 doctoral theses and research reports were published with ICSSR grant. Similarly, 35 professional organizations/associations of social scientists received ICSSR grant of Rs. 32.35 lakh for publication of their research journals and 15 organisations received grant amounting to Rs. 45.80 lakh for their maintenance and infrastructural development.

The details of published books, grants given to professional associations/organisations for Maintenance & Development and grants for publication of Research Journals are given in Appendix 7 and Table 2.11.

Moreover, since its inception, the Council has undertaken the task of surveying research developments in chosen disciplines of social science through its programme of 'Surveys of Research'. The core objective of the surveys is to have a comprehensive overview of research under taken during a specified period, involving stock-taking of what has been achieved in a particular social science discipline or area in terms of theory, methodology, empirical evidence and the gaps which need to be prioritized for future researches. So far, the ICSSR has published around 70 Volumes of Research Surveys and 60 other publications.

The Council has completed the Sixth Round of ICSSR Research Survey in the disciplines of Psychology, Political Science, Geography, Sociology & Social Anthropology and Economics covering the period 2003-2009 and published these Research Survey Reports through M/s Oxford University Press (OUP), New Delhi.

The Seventh Round of Research Survey would start very soon in various disciplines of Social Science.

National Social Science Documentation Centre (NASSDOC)

The National Social Science Documentation Centre (NASSDOC) was established in 1970 as a division of the ICSSR. It provides library and information services to the social science research community including academic institutions, autonomous research organisations, policy making bodies, planning and research units of the government departments etc. To meet the technology-driven world challenges, it uses web-based digital environment to create, apply and utilise the information with its automated library collection, Web-OPAC, online databases/ e-resources, digital repository, information gateway etc. Major activities and services of the NASSDOC include Library, Reference & Information Services, E-resources for ICSSR's Research Institutes & Regional Centres, Compilation of Short Bibliographies/Literature Search Services; Microfilm & Microfiche Services; Continuing Education Programme; Value Added Services like Current Awareness Service (CAS); National Knowledge Network internet facility to access e-resources in social sciences, with the state of the art 'Digital Resources Learning Centre (DRLC)'. In addition to this, NASSDOC has a 'Sales and Distribution Unit' to supply publications of the ICSSR.

Library, Reference and Information Services

International Collaboration

Promoting social science research through international collaboration is one of the major approaches followed by the ICSSR. Under this programme, the Council provides opportunity to both Indian and foreign scholars to interact, learn, research and contribute to social science in India and abroad. The Council undertakes several important activities under the programme which include bilateral and multilateral collaborations with foreign funding councils and social science organisations, providing financial assistance to Indian scholars for presenting papers in international conferences & data collection abroad etc.

The ICSSR has established strong bilateral social science collaborative agreements with its counterparts abroad. Besides, the Council is one of the implementing agencies of the 'Cultural Exchange Programme' and 'Educational Exchange Programme' of the Government of India with other countries.

Our crucial task is to promote and fund innovative, interdisciplinary/multidisciplinary and policy relevant social science research in the country and thus, lead the way in which social science research is to be shaped and strengthened in India which also incorporates collaborative research with similar Councils or agencies abroad. Its vision is to nurture, train and build capacity of social scientists through a comprehensive, challenging and innovative training in research.

The ICSSR in its endeavor to encourage dialogue and discussion on important issues of social science relevance provides financial assistance to organize national & international conferences/seminars in India. The ICSSR's 'Seminar Grant Scheme' aims at facilitating research in discipline specific areas of social science as well as in interdisciplinary areas.

The International Collaboration Programme of the ICSSR provides an opportunity to both Indian and foreign scholars in the field of social sciences to interact and research. Financial assistance is also provided to Indian social scientists, who have been invited to present and contribute paper at seminars/conferences abroad. The ICSSR also provides financial assistance to social scientists who have a plan to visit abroad for the purpose of data collection or consulting archival material in connection with their research work.

The ICSSR has emerged, over the years, as a premier social science research organization in India with a highly visible international presence. Activities relating to promoting academic links among social scientists of India and other countries of the world have been the prime task of the 'International Collaboration Division'. The Division, on behalf of the Council, leads programmes of collaboration and joint research with several countries and organizations.

International Collaboration Programme

While the ICSSR is continuing its cooperation with the existing programmes of different countries like National Research Council of Thailand (NRCT), Thailand; Vietnam Academy of Social Science (VASS), Vietnam; National Science Foundation (NSF), Sri Lanka; Economic and Social Research Council

(ESRC), UK; The Netherlands Scientific Organization (NWO), The Netherlands; German Research Foundation (DFG), Germany; Korean Social Science Research Council (KOSSREC), Republic of Korea; Swiss National Science Foundation (SNSF), Switzerland; Ministry of Science and Technology (MOST), Taipei, Taiwan; Japan Society for Promotion of Science (JSPS), Japan; National Institute for the Humanities and Social Sciences (NIHSS), South Africa; Philippine Social Science Council (PSSC), Philippines; British Council (BC), UK; European Commission (EC); Institute of Oriental Studies (IOS), Russian Academy of Science, Moscow; Swedish Research Council for Health, Working Life and Welfare (FORTE), Sweden; Academy of Sciences and Arts of Bosnia and Herzegovina (ANUBiH), Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina. The ICSSR has multilateral collaborations with EU-India Platform on Social Sciences and Humanities (EqUIP).

Besides, the ICSSR has been participating in the activities of international social science organizations such as International Science Council (ISC), Science Council of Asia (SCA), The Latin American Council of Social Sciences (CLACSO), and Association of Asian Social Science Research Councils (AASSREC). The ICSSR is also the nodal agency of the Sub-Commission on Social Sciences constituted by the Ministry of Education under the Indian National Commission for Cooperation with UNESCO (INCCU).

Broad-basing ICSSR through Inter-disciplinary and Trans-disciplinary Collaborations

In India, there are scientific, medical and agricultural councils, which too have international collaborations. The ICSSR is developing programmes which would have stronger and deeper interface between society and science through bilateral or multilateral agreements with research organisations like DST, ICMR, DBT, ICAR etc. Besides, the ICSSR is planning to collaborate with IIMs, IITs and NITs of the country to have joint workshops and seminars. Similarly, the ICSSR plans to have collaborative arrangements with National Law Universities of India (NLUs).

There is a constant move to project a strong innovative role of the ICSSR through new programmes & activities under International Collaboration Programme.

Bilateral Collaborative Programme

The ICSSR has signed 'Bilateral Collaborative Programmes' with parallel organizations of several countries to implement activities such as exchange of scholars, joint seminars, joint projects, joint publications, exchange of books and periodicals, etc. The Council also plans to invite eminent foreign scholars to visit India for delivering lectures under its scheme of "Visit of Distinguished Scholars". This year, the ICSSR has signed the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Institute of Oriental Studies (IOS), Russian Academy of Sciences, Moscow, Russia commencing from 10th June, 2021 initially for a period of three years and thereafter, it will be automatically extended for a further period of three years, unless either party expresses its desire for discontinuation.

During the reporting year, the following activities were organized under the 'Bilateral Collaborative Programme' of ICSSR:

ICSSR-Ministry of Science and Technology (MOST), Taipei, Taiwan - Joint Research Project

Impactful Policy Research in Social Science (IMPRESS) Scheme

Every nation, at all points of time, aspires to witness positive developments in all dimensions of its life which includes economic, social, political, cultural, educa-tionnal etc. These aspirations have driven man-kind to assess the needs of the society and inno -vate accordingly.

The very process of evolution suggests how mankind has faced problems and challenges at every stage of development and attempted to overcome these difficulties and adversities through creativity, innovativeness and advance-ment of new techniques and tools. Thus, the task of nation-building and progress of society are ever continuing.

Many scientists and researchers believe that nation building is an outcome of developments in science & technology or in capital formation. This view gained prominence in almost all major countries of the world which has led to larger parts of their societies failing to equate the swiftness of developments in science & technology. Hence, number of issues pertaining to development gaps, imbalances, poverty, malnutrition, exploitation of various kinds, inequality, tension, stress, violence, discrimination, security etc. have emerged. These issues have acted and continue to act as impediments to the very process of potential development and well-being. So, every society needs thorough study of such problems, their causal factors, inter-related issues, acceptable explanations and workable way outs in demanding situations.

The Scenario of Social Science Research

Many commissions and committees of the government as well as thinkers have felt that there is an evident degree of disparity between thrust on science & technology and social development. Several committees have strongly recommended to encourage and promote Social Science Research (SSR) and its greater participation in public policy. India's first Higher Education Commission, 1950 (Radhakrishnan Commission) highlighted the disparity between natural and social science, and argued in favour of assigning higher importance and greater allocation for social science research. Indian Education Commission (1964-66), popularly known as 'Kothari Commission', emphasized the need for development of scientific approach in social science research and also urged for the knowledge creation in these areas through training and capacity building programmes. The Commission also recommended for greater allocation of resources for SSR. Though, India's first Education Policy i.e. 'National Policy of Education (NPE), 1968' implicitly held Social Science as Policy Science, yet it insisted on science education and research for national development. However, the Policy recommended that the 'Centres of Advanced Study' should be established or strengthened for the upliftment of social scientific research. The 'National Policy of Education, 1986' and 'Programme of Action, 1992' insisted to minimise the gap between researchers and policy makers and to maintain focus on policy driven research, especially the SSR. The Policy also endorsed the view that inter-disciplinary and trans-disciplinary researches generate greater utility than purely unidisciplinary researches. In the 'National Education Policy 2020' also, there is an emphasis on Multi-disciplinary research and innovation across different research organizations. There is no doubt that research domains have widened in both, science and technology researches as well as in social science researches. There is an increasing appreciation of rising degree of complementarity in researches in both the spheres as the two have to be deeply interconnected in order to maximize the benefits from such explorations.

Science and technology research, which affirms to improve the quality of life, needs to be completely connected with the society as any deficiency in expected degree of its association with the society is bound to result in concentration of benefits among very few. Besides that, there is a fair degree of realization that social science research and social scientists need to be closely connected to the policy making at all levels, including that in science and technology because the idea is to translate researches into impactful policy documents and make research findings bring about still more improvement in the quality of life. It can happen only when research problems emanate from the society & its problems, and researchers endeavour to provide some pragmatic solution to those problems. The linking of social science research with that of science & technology research is bound to provide a very intense insight even to the scientists and help them make their researches or innovations more easily acceptable by the society. It would also inspire potential social scientists to contribute more vigorously and enthusiastically in policy making. There is no doubt that social science researches are extremely important for policy conception, implementation and final delivery as every policy ultimately is to be appreciated and accepted by the society for attempting to serve it much better. Identification of critical issues also assists the policy makers to formulate better and more acceptable policies, schemes and programmes. In this connection, the role of social science ecosystem is also very crucial. There is no refutation of the fact that no public policy can be very successfully adopted without interacting with the society, knowing it and its aspirations, and also acquainting it with significant and new developments.

In order to tap its potentials optimally, social science research required a big push for which IMPRESS makes a sincere attempt in the right direction.

IMPRESS (Impactful Policy Research in Social Science)

Impactful Policy Research in Social Science (IMPRESS) is an idea of its own kind that aims to provide a research-based roadmap to address policy challenges pertaining to society and so, the social science expanses. The research-based inputs are the crucial requirements in the process of policy making as a policy should evolve from the society and its concerns and the policy is ultimately expected to respond to societal aspirations. It has been pointed out that the gaps between policy makers and the society need to be bridged. Social science researchers can be very helpful in identification of the gaps between the society and policy makers and they may attempt to provide vital inputs or evidences about the perception, appreciation and outreach of the policies among people. Besides, there may be crucial areas where policy makers require timely inputs, evidence, feedback and participation in order to make policy considerably effective. So, IMPRESS is dedicated to address the issue of bridging the gap between policy making & implementing and the society by generating or encouraging vital inputs from researches in important social science domains so as to assist in having maximum impact on governance and society.

The domain and sub-domain areas need to be identified in a way that encompasses subjects that have been in public policy debate due to new developments, earnest concerns, emerging issues and critical deficiencies. Based on these aspects, the following Eleven (11) important broad domain areas were identified after a fair extent of consultation:

a. State and Democracy
b. Urban Transformation
c. Media, Culture and Society
d. Employment Skills and Rural Transformation
e. Governance, Innovation and Public Policy
f. Growth, Macro-trade and Economic Policy
g. Agriculture and Rural Development
h. Health and Environment
i. Science and Education
j. Social Media and Technology
k. Politics, Law and Economics

Since IMPRESS intends to support social science scholars, academicians and policy makers for greater impact of research and policy, and for that, it aims to connect social science researches, their assessment of ongoing policies and suggestions with policy makers. The scheme has more than 100 sub-domain areas within the above mentioned broad 11 domains.

Some of these sub-domains include India as a Welfare State, Nature of Federalism in India, Security & Defence Policy, India's Soft Power Policy, Diaspora, Indian Portrayal, Regional Cooperation, Urbanisation, Cities and Sustainability, Urban/City Governance, Urban Transportation, Women Empowerment and its Status, Inclusion and Development of Scheduled Castes & Tribes, Skill and Employability, Rural Transformation, Infrastructure and Transportation, Technology for Rural Transformation, E-Governance and Smart Governance, Innovation, Knowledge and Governance, Technology and Governance, Growth, Inclusiveness, Poverty and Inequality, Ease of Doing Business, Make in India Initiative, Financial Inclusion, Revitalisation of Manufacturing, Informal Sector Issues, Agrarian Distress and related Issues, Food and Nutrition Security, State Level Developments, Environmental Problems and Climate Change, Water Problem, Swachh Bharat Initiative, Universal Health, Disaster and Its Management, Science & Society, Access, Equity and Quality in Higher Education, Digital Learning, Technology and Social Media, Social Media - Networks, Ethics, Accountability and Big Data Issues, Bureaucracy & Administrative Reforms, Judicial Activism, Rape Survivors and Justice System etc.

The proposal of Impactful Policy Research in Social Sciences the scheme named (IMPRESS) was approved by Government of India in August 2018 with a total budget of ₹ 414 Crore spread over three financial years for its implementation starting from October 2018. ICSSR being a highly reputed social science research Council under the Ministry of Human Resource Development Ministry of Education now, Government of India, was entrusted with the responsibility of implementing the scheme. ICSSR was also supposed to contribute a small part towards project funding from its own allocation for projects.

The scheme had a target to award a minimum of 1500 research projects and 200 seminars/ conferences/ workshops. Regular faculty from institutes of national importance, central and state universities, private universities/ Institutes having UGC12 (B) status, and ICSSR research institutes were eligible to apply for research programme or projects and seminars under IMPRESS. The proposals were invited in a competitive mode through four open calls at an interval of five to six months and the first call was launched in October 2018. The evaluation process was quite transparent as each proposal was to be blind peer reviewed by three experts who were assigned proposals through a computer driven system. Based on the recommendations of the experts and merit, the proposals were shortlisted for presentation & interaction before another Expert Committee which makes its observations/recommendations for the consideration of the Steering Committee. The Steering Committee takes the final decision in the light of merit, observations and recommendations of the Expert Committee/s.

The First Call of IMPRESS

This financial year (2021-22) saw the completion of 685 projects sanctioned under the First Call of IMPRESS, out of which of 544 final reports were received. In the year 2021-22 final reports of 429 projects were received. Details of the final reports received may be seen at Appendix-12.

The final reports received are checked for plagiarism and after due revision the report is critically reviewed by the concerned domain expert. Out of these 54 reports were graded 'excellent/outstanding'.

The Project Directors have published their research outcomes in peer-reviewed journals both International and National duly acknowledging the Ministry of Education and ICSSR for their research. So far, 509 such papers have been published in 121 international and 388 national reputed journals. Details of these publications may be seen at Appendix - 12.

The Second Call of IMPRESS

The second call of IMPRESS was announced on 28th September, 2019, which received very good response and led to a massive submission of 3565 applications across the country. Interaction of Project Directors of all the shortlisted recommended proposals with Expert Panel has been completed and the list has also been submitted for the consideration of the 'Steering Committee'. However, the further process has been halted ever since the outbreak of Covid-19 pandemic.

ICSSR Research Institutes

The Indian Council of Social Science Research provides maintenance and development grant to 24 Research Institutes. Sponsoring of Research Institutes outside the scope of the University Grants Commission has been one of the major programmes of the Council in enlarging the base of social science knowledge, improving the quality of research, and promoting an interdisciplinary perspective. These Institutes constitute an important mechanism for implementing the Council's policy of dispersal of research talents and building up of research capabilities in the different regions of the country, particularly in the areas where social science research is not fully developed.

The Research Institutes have established close links with the scholars in the region as well as elsewhere through various activities such as seminars, workshops, training and consultancy programmes. Some of the Institutes are closely associated with National and State Level Planning and Development Agencies, and have thereby strengthened the links between research and policy making.

Each Institute determines its own direction of research, which includes a wide spectrum of subjects related to Agricultural and Rural Development, Industrial Structure and Growth, Income Distribution and Poverty, Employment and Wages, Inter-regional Differences in Levels of Development, Education, Health, Nutrition, Problems of Weaker Sections of Society including Women, Energy, Technology, Ecology and Environment, and Social, Cultural, Historical and Institutional aspects of Development. Thus, research studies have generated substantial empirical knowledge of the structure of Indian economy, polity, history and society and their dynamics both at the national and regional levels.

During the last five years, the Institutes have completed 1293 research projects, while 1588 were on-going. These cover a wide spectrum of issues relating to areas that are already mentioned above. What is more significant in these efforts is that they are not only interdisciplinary in character, but also focused on regional and local problems. In this process, they have become centres of research for the region's specific issues and have greatly contributed to an awareness of the nature of development problems and potential of the country as a whole. In terms of publications, the Institutes have brought out 745 books & reports and 936 working papers during the last five years.

Another important activity, that has been given importance by the Council, is training of young social scientists by the Research Institutes through M.Phil. and Ph.D. programmes, workshops and seminars. During the last five years, 231 Ph.Ds. have been awarded and 2343 scholars have been working on their Ph.Ds. The Council can legitimately take pride in its role in promoting the research and training efforts made by the Research Institutes. A total of 228 research projects were completed in these Institutes during the year 2021-22. The total number of ongoing studies at the end of the year was 270.

Research Institutes disseminate the results of their research studies in the form of published books, monographs, working/occasional papers etc. During the year under report, the number of books/ reports published was 156, monographs/mimeographs were 25 and working/occasional papers were 199. The number of research papers published was 500.

The Institutes also undertake training of young social scientists and assist fresh researchers in designing and conducting their research. For this purpose, Doctoral Fellowships have been provided to these Institutes. Some of the Institutes have been assisting in Teaching and Training Programmes for M.Phil. and Ph.D. students. In addition, as per the Council's Policy, they participate in postgraduate teaching, research guidance in the universities and also involved the university teachers in their research programmes. During the year, 451 scholars were working under the guidance of the faculties of the Research Institutes, 45 were awarded Ph.D. degrees and 51 scholars submitted their Doctoral dissertations. A total of 359 seminars and workshops were held during 2021-22.

A.1 Liabilities

A.1.1 Corpus/ Capital Fund (Schedule 1)- Rs. (-)155.83 crore

The above schedule includes Correction/Adjustments of Rs. 6.56 crore under the Head-Capital Fund (General).
